Forecast For East Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 16 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Many places remaining dry this weekend.

Today:
Dry with often large amounts of cloud, but also bright or sunny spells. After a chilly start for many places, especially rural locations, temperatures will reach near average values and it will feel mild with the light winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Some clear spells, particularly across southern areas, but generally cloud will increase with hill fog likely to develop across the Peak District. Minimum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Sunday:
Northern areas will be largely cloudy, with hill fog and a chance of patchy rain across the Peak District. Further south remaining dry with sunny spells before cloud increases. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Monday cloudy but largely dry until heavy rain arrives through the evening. Tuesday spells of rain, sometimes heavy, becoming drier later. Wednesday windy with heavy, perhaps thundery, showers. Very mild.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.